Ruzica Blagojevic has become the EVS department’s “go-to person” during the pandemic. At a time of staff shortages, Ruzica never hesitates to come to work when needed and volunteered to supervise the two floors designated for COVID-19 patients.

She works hand-in-hand with nurses and has undergone special training to enhance her skills. As a result of her efforts, she has become a Lead, establishing work details and overseeing a team.

“Her confidence has grown over the past few months and her abilities have been recognized by the staff,” said Sheila Muransky, EVS director. “She is now one of our top Leads in our department.”
